8. Ptl had completed a search of the NW side of the ridge and was crossing over the ridge to search the SE side when the enemy were seen to be approaching from the East. The Sect Comd indicated the enemy. The Ptl Comd quickly swung the prl into extended line and put in a quick attack with machine guns on either flank. Enemy returned fire with AK47s and tried to withdraw East. They were confused and disorganised by the quickness of the attack which swept through the area. The reorg was carried out on the objective. One enemy was seen to withdraw to the East and he had returned fire but was seen to fall when fire on. I then moved forward with a small party to organise the search of the area and the dust off of the wounded VC.

7. Sentry.
8. VC was first sighted by the sentry. Enemy saw the sentry at just about the same time the sentry engaged. The Gun group from 1 sect moved to the sentry's right flank. VC withdrew south. A sweep was conducted by myself with 1 sect. Sign was found which showed that the VC had withdrawn into a small village about 300 metres to the South. During the search an OP was found. At this position we found two sandbags containing: 3 Conicle containers, 1 shirt(green) 1 trousers(civvy), 1 water bottle, 4 pkts cigarettes, 2lb tobacco, 1 pr green PT shirts(Aust) 55 lb rice, a pkt Marmee, 3 lb cooked fish, 3 lb cooked rice, 2 lb salt, 1 large spoon, 1 cooking pot, 6lb bamboo shoots. After gathering the above items we continued the follow up and after questioning an old man in the village who told us that a wounded VC had approached him a few minutes after the contact and then had moved into a large bamboo thicket to the North West. A Search of the areas led to the capture of two VC, one of whom had been wounded about 11 days prior by C/S 33 at 429868, but failed to reveal any sign of the VC contacted by C/S 62.

11. The use of M18A1 mines even on short breaks should be considered. VC had used this area for a long time and yet there were no beaten tracks and the foliage had not been disturbed. The absence of sign does not necessarily mean the absence of VC.
